

Strategy= Leader=Personality

Perfect and planned strategy is most essential element to reach decided goal of each institute. But as a car can't run smoothly without a good driver though it is on super express highway, same way good strategy can't run without a good leader and leader is nothing but a person and a person becomes successful only due to the personality he has. So, personality is the basic and uttermost requirement for the productive strategy. Let's take a Bird view round of some traits of pious productive and prudential personality.

As we know that leadership needs intelligence with emotional touch and Geeta explains super seven qualities of leader in which first four are related to intelligence and next are based on emotions.

अनपेक्ष शुचि दक्ष उदासीनो गतव्यथः ।

अदेष्टा सर्वभुताना मैत्रः करुण एववः ॥

1. अनपेक्ष :- The first and uttermost quality is , be the expectation less. Means don't do anything with the intention to get person will less back something. Whatever we plan and execute, do it for satisfaction and learning, not to get honors or any other benefit for yourself and when we start practicing this , our efforts will automatically convert into commitment , and commitment will always get appraisal from higher and lower cadre. Commitment always brings success. And success gives professional growth, so we can say, this is the first step to become a good leader, make the personal expectations less.
2. शुचि :- Piousness,- Commitment can bring success but as a leader we need to lead the team. The best and the easiest way to lead the team is – lead by self-example. And to set self-example, we have to avoid taking benefit of post, we never take personal facility for personal work, like we should never use office peon for our house work, and we should never become partial with staff. In short we should keep purity in financial and character matters. And we all know when we inculcate these two purity in our personality. Then everybody will respect us. Our plan easily gets approval and execution path and when our team accepts and plan full heartedly, our school will touch the heights without doubt.
